IRAN

RIGHTS VIOLATIONS AND POPULAR PROTESTS

In One Year

2114

Social Protests
In One Year In Iran

Kurdish teachers in Iranian
Kurdistan stage protest gathering

Ms. Mohammadi was arrested albeit the fact that on May 3, 2015, she had been tried in the mullahs, "revolutionary court" headed by henchman Salavati on charges of "propaganda against the system, assembly and collaboration against the national security, and establishment and membership in a proscribed group"

Iranian Teacher Protests
May 2015

Radio Free Europe: May 07, 2015
Thousands of teachers across Iran have again taken to the streets to call for higher wages.
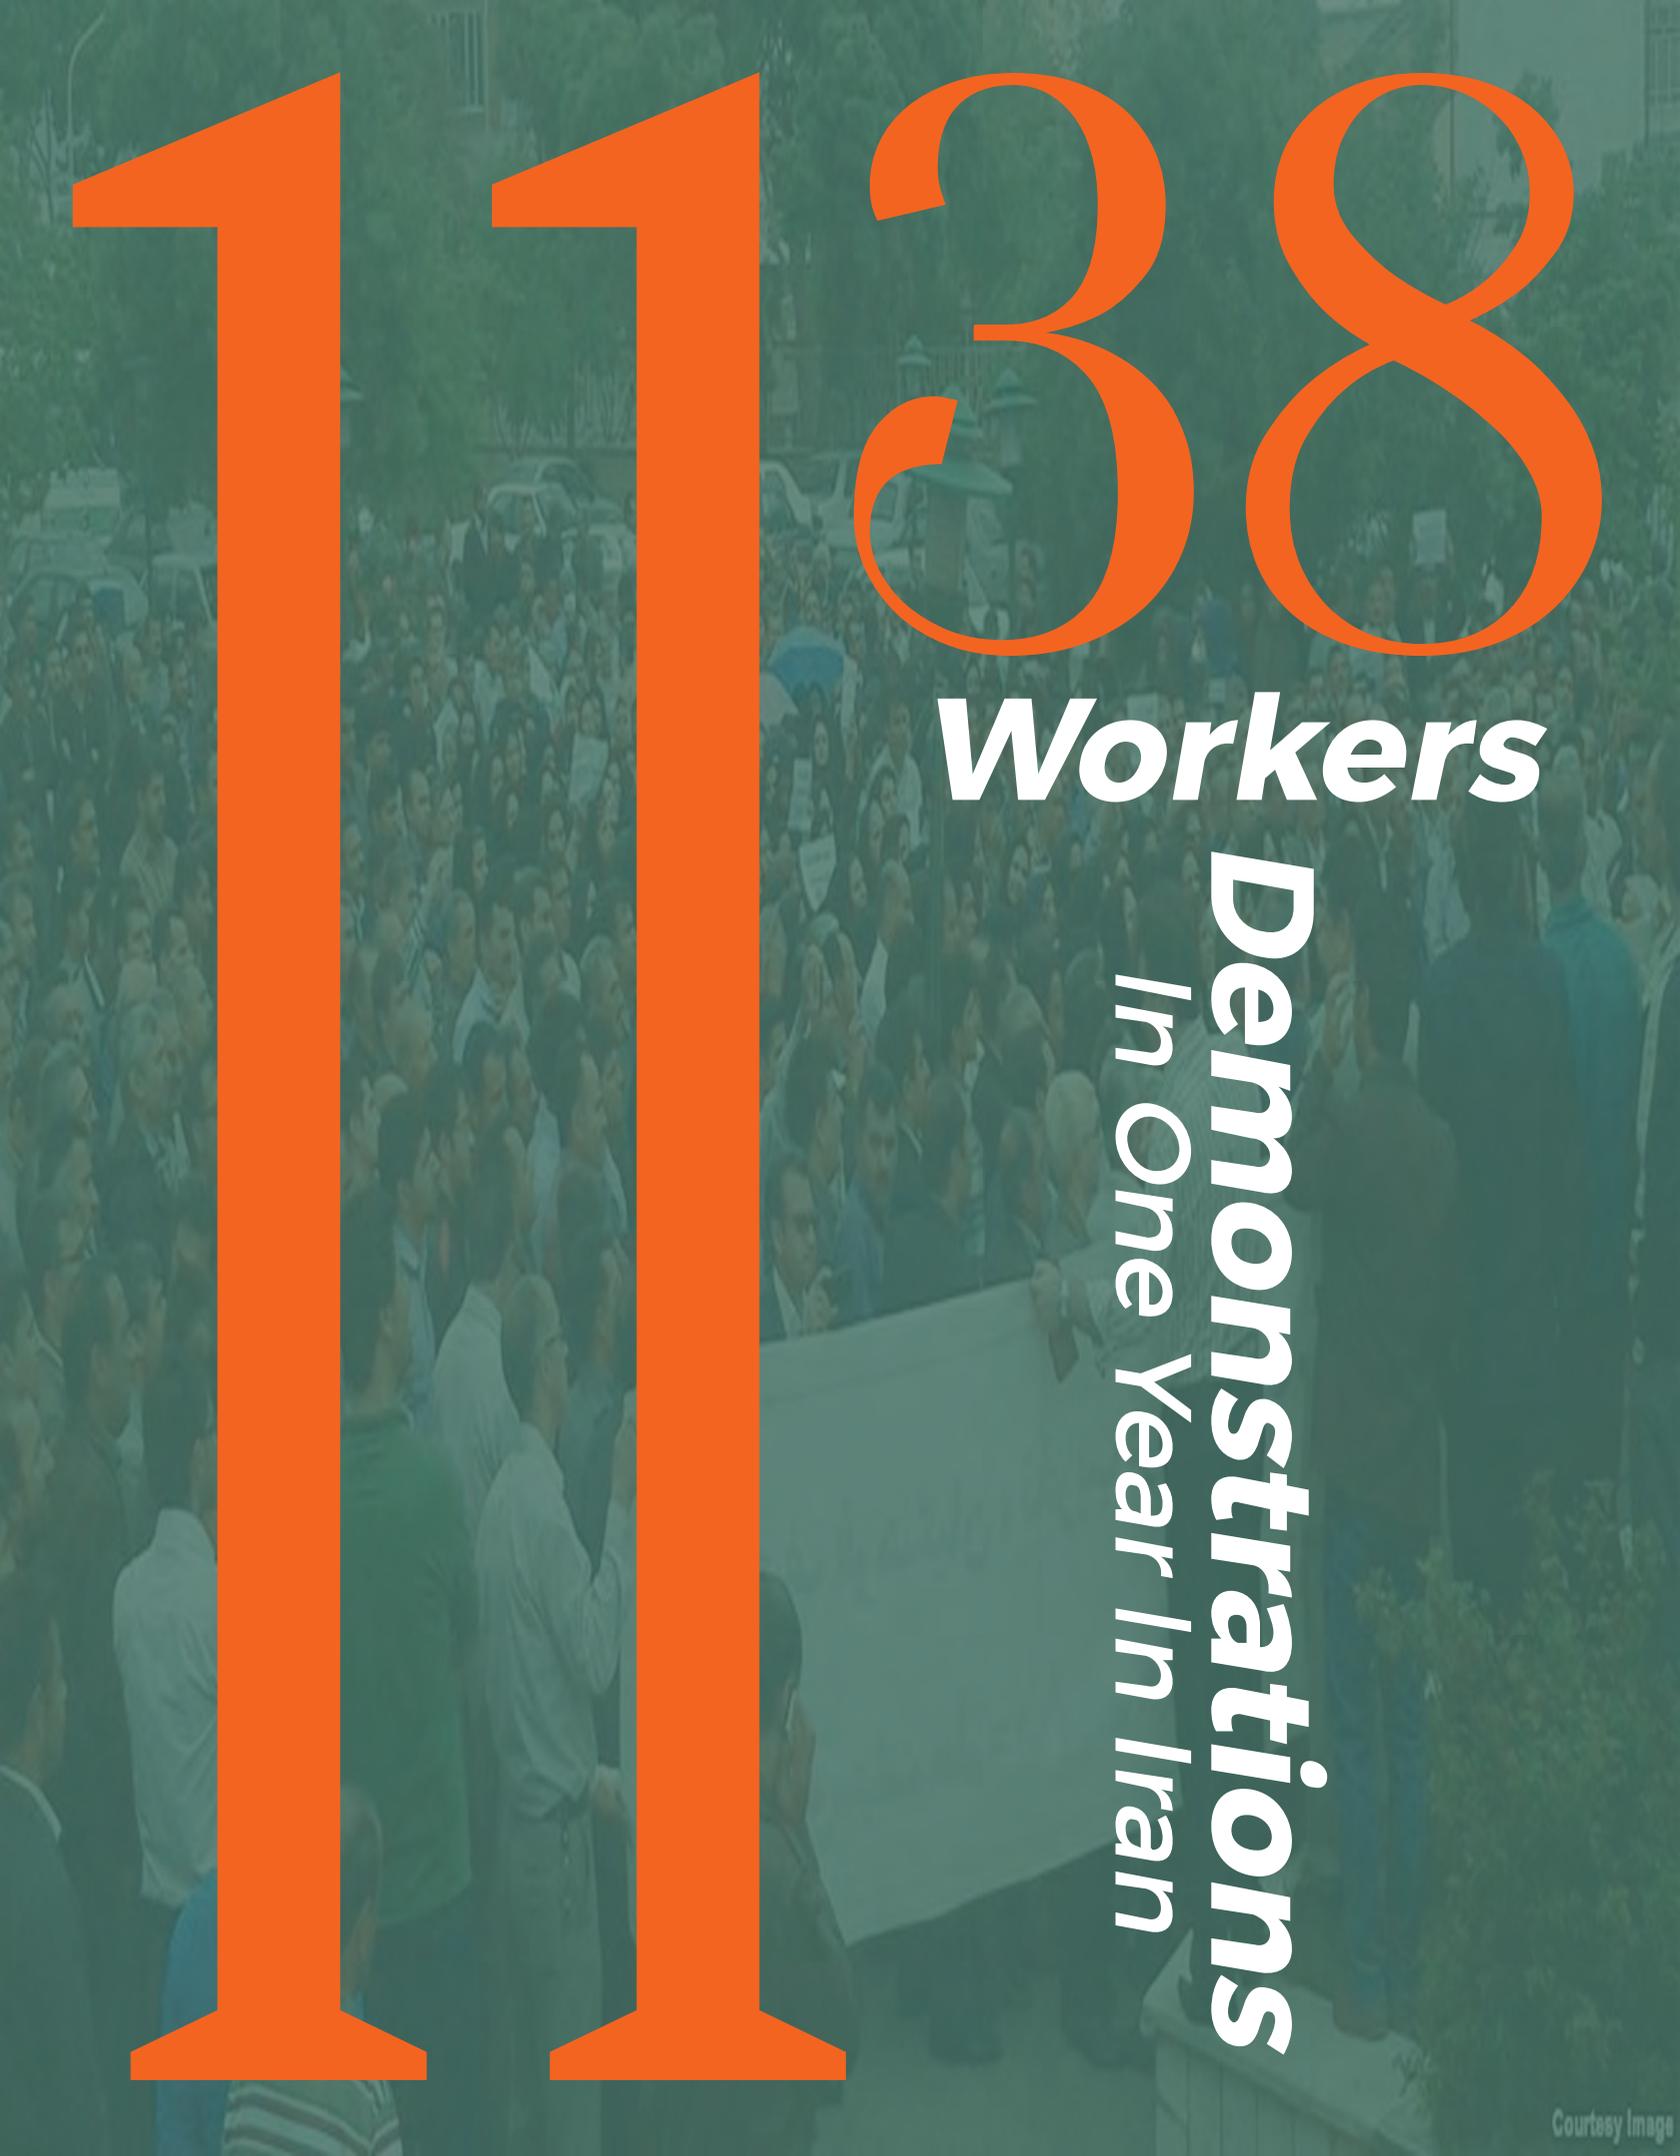

1138

Workers

Demonstrations
In One Year In Iran

Iranian Nurses Protest
November 2015

Iranian Workers Protests
April 2015

987

Women
Youth
Rallies
In One Year In Iran

Iran: A woman's bold rebellion against compulsory veil

A woman removes her shawl among the crowd during the mass march on the anniversary of February 11, 1979 Revolution in Tehran.

Women were forced to wear the veil after the mullahs seized power in Iran in 1979.

Students Protests

413

Iranian Teacher Protests
May 2015

Radio Free Europe: May 07, 2015

Thousands of teachers across Iran have again taken to the streets to call for higher wages.

Sittings and Gatherings Outside the Evin Prison

373

DR. MOHAMMAD MALEKI
The first post-revolution Chancellor of Tehran University
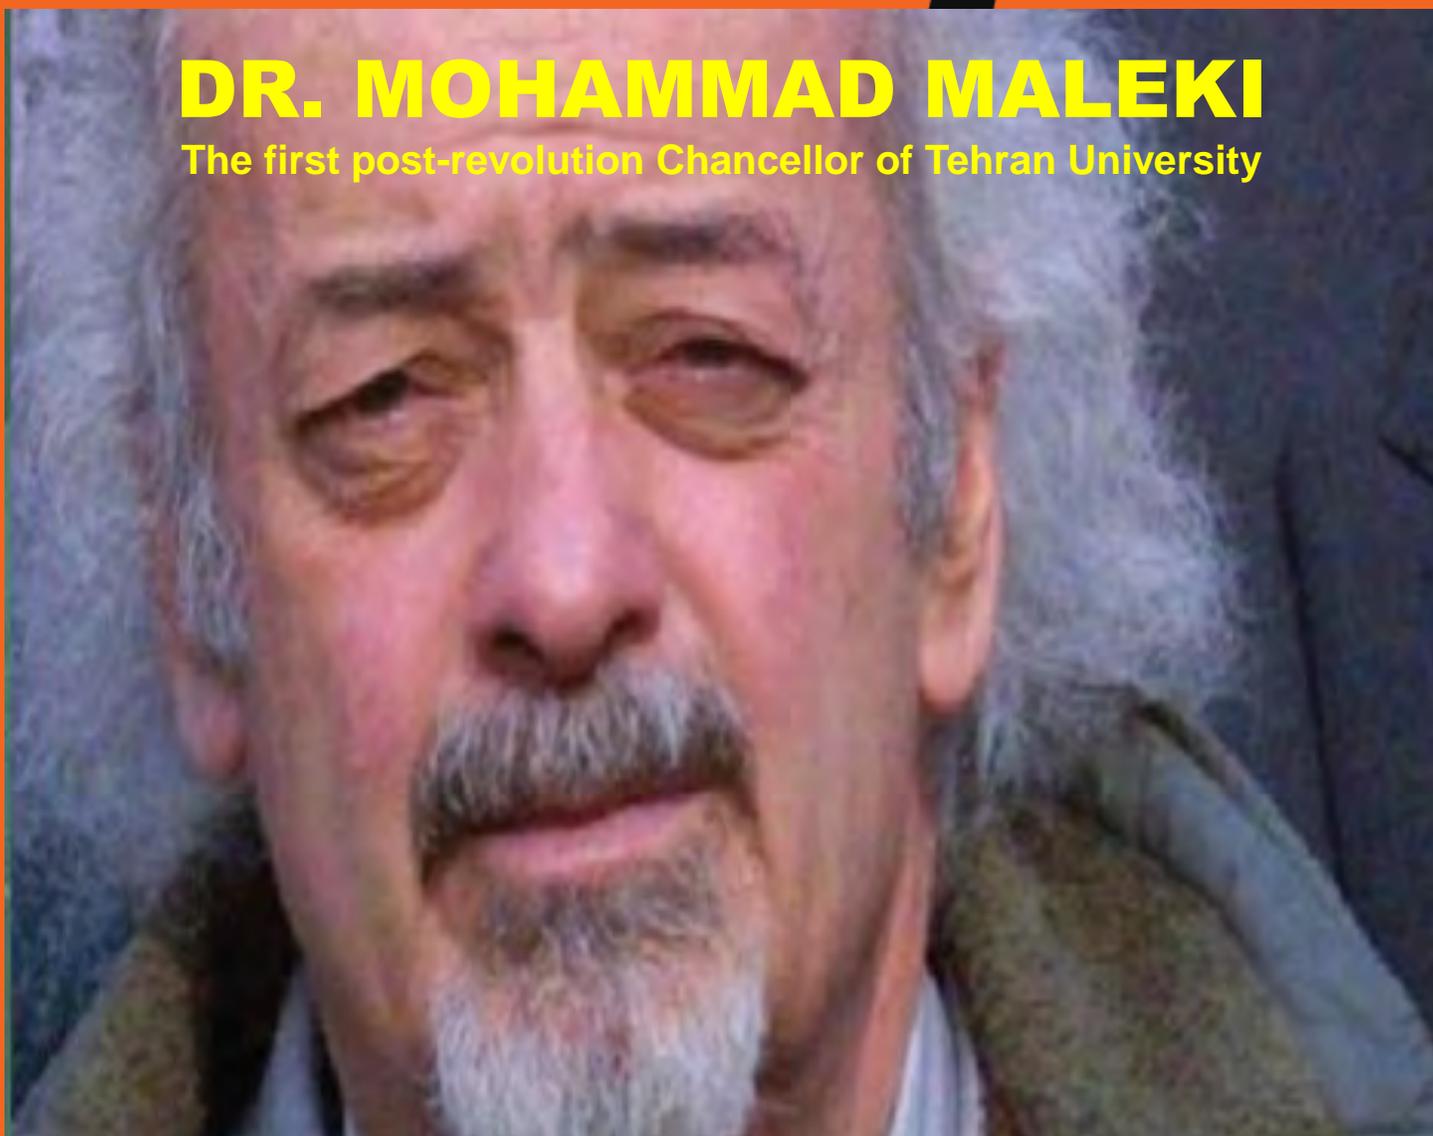

"'"I am reminded of a quote by the late Grand Ayatollah Montazeri who wrote to Khomeini in a letter that rest assured, an idea can not be killed through murder. You have killed so many , you have beaten so many, you have destroyed so many.''"

BAZAR
(MERCHANTS)
STRIKES

262

OIAC

Organization of Iranian American Communities-U.S.

About Us

The Organization of Iranian-American communities (OIAC-US) works to promote human rights and democratic freedoms for the people of Iran. This includes advocating for a democratic secular government in Iran, founded on respect for human rights, religious tolerance, and equality among all citizens. Our goal is to organize Iranian-American communities in the United States to promote these values.